Dear Sir

I am writing to you to stress the concern I have regarding developing the orchard belonging to Courtfield House.

The orchard is in a conservation area and steps must be taken to protect the trees. The wildlife which now live in the orchard will be lost forever. The pleasure the birds give to the older generation of residences who live in the area enhances their lives (some of whom are house bound) Not only does the wild life (which includes bats) enjoy the orchard what about the children which attend the nursery. They will no longer be able to enjoy the freedom of playing in a safe and happy environment.

This orchard has given so much pleasure to the town hosting various events, The Apple festival is a prime example.

I sincerely hope you will take the mentioned into consideration before the many years of life enjoyment is destroyed by a luxury houses.

Yours sincerely

Shirley Vicker
