	After living for 25 years in Burbage, first with 4 pubs, and latterly with only two, one of which does not open at lunchtime and does not provide food, it would, in my view, be quite wrong for Change of Use permission to be granted to what was The Three Horseshoes. A pub in such a thriving and growing village the size of Burbage, in a prime position for passing trade as well as local, should not be allowed to disappear. Permission for Change of Use should definitely not be granted.
